

Rachel Uffner Gallery

170 Suffolk Street, New York, United States

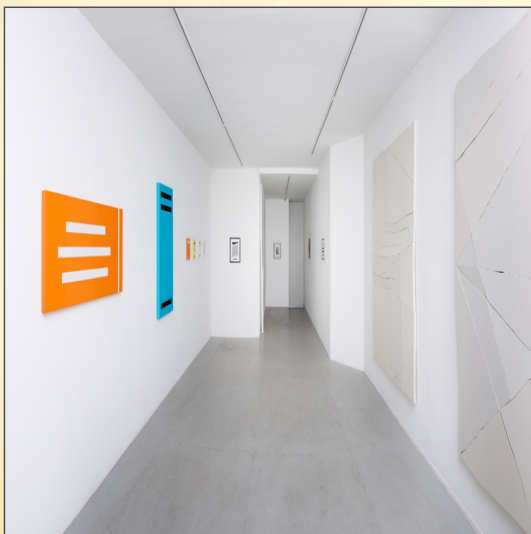

Rachel Uffner Gallery opened in Fall 2008 on Orchard Street in New York City's Lower East Side. The program consists of emerging and mid-career international artists, many of whom have been included in significant museum and gallery exhibitions worldwide. In addition to its continuous exhibition schedule, the gallery presents organized shows curated in house and via guest curators. In March 2014, the gallery reopened in an expanded bi-level space at 170 Suffolk Street, allowing our artists the opportunity to expand their practice to a larger scale in a very flexible space, host a number of guest curated shows, and to continue to develop the gallery's interest in showing historic works in relation to contemporary artists.
